About Drew University

DREW UNIVERSITY is focused on experiential learning where students will benefit from personal relationships with their professors, practical-learning programs and a deep-rooted culture of collaboration within the greater community.

Why Choose a Liberal Arts Education?

A liberal arts education equips you with skills for a lifetime of great career opportunities in an ever-changing world. Drew does not just prepare you for your first job, but for every possibility in a constantly evolving job market. Flexible programs, close relationships with professors, small class sizes, and unparalleled hands-on experiences are just some examples of what makes a liberal arts education at Drew so unique.

With a liberal arts education, you have the freedom to follow your own path. At Drew, you can enjoy a flexible curriculum with out-of-the-classroom experiences that help you design your own university experience. You can declare a double major or double minor in more than 50 fields. At Drew, it is your education, your way.

• 37 majors and 62 minors
• Six combined-degree programs
• Pre-professional programs in law, medicine/health, engineering and more
• New York City Semester programs, internships, real-world experience and global opportunities

“I selected Drew because I was drawn to the foreign concept of liberal arts. Small classrooms meant connecting with professors who truly mentored me. I am still in contact with them years after graduating.”

On-Campus Housing

All students are required to live on campus for their first two years of university, but housing is available for all four years. Some of the benefits to living on campus are:

• 24-hour on-site support with a member of student services team living in the first year dorms
• Live with your peers - 95% of the student population lives on campus
• Convenient locations close to classrooms, libraries and campus facilities
• Lounges with televisions and games like billiards and table tennis
• A diverse living/learning environment — Drew is ranked 19th in enrolling international students out of baccalaureate colleges in the US with more than 40 countries represented on campus

Experience
New York City

If you are looking to get a head start on your career with an internship, try a new restaurant, or have a fun weekend getaway, the train station is only a 5-minute walk away from campus and you can be in New York City within 45 minutes. Discover all that New York has to offer, including:

• World-famous landmarks like the Empire State Building, Statue of Liberty, Times Square, Central Park and more
• Shopping on Fifth Avenue
• Watch a Broadway show
• Ferry rides around the Hudson River
• Internship opportunities with leading companies

HOW THE NEW YORK SEMESTERS WORK

Students in any major can enroll in the New York Semester programs. Whether you are pursuing a semester related to your degree or exploring something new, you can choose to participate. During your semester in New York City you will:
• Go into NYC twice a week during your regular semester or five times if you participate during a summer semester
• Spend the morning being taught in a Drew-NYC classroom
• Apply what you have learned in a real-world setting
• Network with experts in your area of interest

Find out more about the New York City Semesters: www.Drew.edu/globaled/nyctrec

"The New York Semesters are all unbelievable! I was able to take three of them during my four years at Drew. The Wall Street Semester introduced me to so many alumni who eventually helped me get an internship and a job from Penn Mutual in Manhattan.”
Nilab Nusrat, Afghanistan

New York City Semester Programs

Our New York Semesters are your ticket to launching your career at some of the city’s most powerful spaces. In these programs, you will earn academic credit and have the chance to make meaningful connections for your future. Drew’s New York City semester programs have been recognized as innovations in higher education.

SEMESTER ON WALL STREET

In the Wall Street semester, you will gain a strong understanding of how markets work in the center of global financial markets.
• Your classroom will be in the Flatiron building across from the New York Stock Exchange.
• Visit leaders in the industry including investment firms and hedge funds like Goldman Sachs, BNY Melon and BlackRock as well as stock exchanges and regulatory agencies like NASDAQ, NYSE and the Securities and Exchanges Commission.
• Students who participated in this semester have gone on to work at many major firms.

SEMESTER ON THE UNITED NATIONS

Learn about the inner workings of the UN and discuss the issues reshaping the international community.
• This is the longest-running NYC semester with over 50 years working with the UN.
• The classroom is across the street from the UN General Assembly.
• Visit the UN Security Council, General Assembly, international ambassadors and delegates, NGO’s (Red Cross, World Vision etc.)

NEW YORK THEATRE PROGRAM

This year-long program partners with a professional theatre company to help you create an original piece to premier in New York City and at Drew. This program is open to all majors and minors in the theatre and dance department.
• Learn theatre history through tours and museum visits.
• Get inspired by attending Broadway productions.
• Participate in hands-on workshops to learn new techniques.

SEMESTER ON COMMUNICATIONS & MEDIA

The Communications and Media semester will teach you how firms both big and small help create messages that shape identities and personalities for their companies, organizations and products.
• Take classes in our Madison Avenue classroom.
• Visit public relations firms (Peppercomm, Ruder Finn) broadcast companies (ABC, CBS) print media outlets (The New York Times, Time Magazine), and top companies like Google, Bloomberg and Twitter.

SEMESTER ON SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Visit foundations, government offices and nonprofit organizations to examine their role in addressing social problems.
• Learn how nonprofits still meet bottom lines while making a difference in their community.
• Visit places like The Ford Foundation, MoMA, The MET, and other nonprofits.

SEMESTER ON CONTEMPORARY ART

Get involved in the New York contemporary art scene. While this program is required for all art and art history majors, it is also open to all Drew students.
• There is no classroom in this semester! You will be on the move visiting emerging art studios to some of the biggest art museums in NYC.
• Network with art dealers and brokers, gallery owners and curators.

Explore firsthand what it takes to be a doctor before applying to medical school. The nearby Morrison Medical Center will allow you to gain valuable knowledge and experience. In this work-study semester, you will work in the Charles A. Dana Research Institute, engaging in undergraduate research alongside professional scientists. This hands-on approach will give you a fantastic opportunity to conduct research and gain insight into the medical field. You will work in full-time research labs with undergraduate students, gaining hands-on experience that is essential for admission to medical school.

RISE Program
This one-of-a-kind program gives you a fantastic opportunity to work in the lab with industrial scientists known as RISE fellows and engage with the professional science community as an undergraduate - an experience typically reserved for postgraduates. You will work in the Charles A. Dana Research Institute, engaging in relevant research while using the analytical tools you would use as a professional such as liquid chromatography and high-field nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometry.

Drew Summer Science Institute
Join the Drew Summer Science Institute (DSSI) and get paid to conduct research. You will be paired with a faculty mentor for an intensive six-week program where you will work full-time on current real-world research that matters. Students will work 40 hours per week on a research project alongside Drew science faculty or RISE fellows. Each student receives free on campus housing for the duration of the program, a budget for laboratory supplies and weekly stipend.

Unique Science Opportunities
Drew offers science majors an unparalleled research experience that gets you in the field as early as your first year of undergraduate study. We offer several science opportunities designed to help you explore the world of science by experiencing it firsthand.

Pre-Med, Your Path to Medical School
Drew provides you with opportunities in research and clinical internships that are essential for admission to medical school. Pre-med students will receive custom support from both an academic advisor and a member of the National Association of Advisors for Health Professionals.

Work-Study with Morristown Medical
In this work-study semester, you will gain valuable knowledge by shadowing emergency room physicians. The mentor program with the nearby Morristown Medical Center will allow you to explore firsthand what it takes to be a doctor before applying to a medical program.

"Drew’s RISE program and Summer Science Institute allowed me to get in to a research lab with actual scientists. This hands-on approach will look great on my application to medical school."

Committed Faculty

One of the defining characteristics of a liberal arts education is the commitment of faculty to do more than just teach—they mentor, debate, challenge and inspire. Drew faculty are not only passionate teachers, they are distinguished scholars too. 60% of our faculty hold PhDs from global top 50 universities.

“Drew is a special place because it is a small community. Professors here have an ‘open door’ policy, so you can just go and talk to them. I often have students coming by just to talk about various things. It’s a very friendly place.”

Minjoon Kouh, Professor of Neuroscience and Physics, PhD MIT

Scholarships - Guaranteed all 4 years

Students who earn INTO Drew scholarships for their Pathway program will be eligible to keep those scholarships for the remaining four semesters of study at Drew, providing they make satisfactory academic progress (2.0 GPA). If a student’s INTO Drew scholarship is less than the Drew or Dean’s scholarships, the student’s INTO Drew scholarship can be replaced by the greater award. Students may receive only one type of scholarship, but not both (either an INTO Drew or Dean/Drew Scholarship).

Pathway students not receiving an INTO Drew scholarship upon entrance will be eligible for a Drew or Dean Scholarship, with a 3.25 GPA or greater in the Pathway program.
