Ref: INTOQUB-FE-10-2021

We have an immediate vacancy for a:

Finance Teacher (full time, permanent)

Context

INTO University Partnerships is an independent organisation committed to expanding higher education and career opportunities for students across the globe.

We believe in the power of education to transform lives. We believe that movement of students leads to movement of ideas, which in turn creates better and more successful societies.

We connect students seeking quality international education with leading universities worldwide aspiring to widen their global reach and impact. Achieving the best learning experience and career prospects for students is central to our mission.

Since our inception in 2005, INTO has pioneered innovation in international education and created groundbreaking partnerships with 30 universities in the US and UK. We have so far helped more than 130,000 students from 190 countries realise their dream of achieving a degree from a world-class university. We also equip students to get a head start in building a career. We do this by offering exceptional academic and employability skills programmes.

We are active in over 120 countries and provide unrivalled personalised service to international students with more than 1,500 experienced staff worldwide and a global network of 2,000 recruitment partners.

Requirements

We require teacher(s) with the ability to teach combinations of modules in Finance to international students at undergraduate university level, up to and including pre Masters level. Experience of teaching at university undergraduate, or at an equivalent level, is required.

The successful candidate(s) will be required to teach modules in the field of Finance and Economics. These include, but are not limited to, Financial Econometrics, Financial Market Theory and Investment Analysis, Price Theory and Economics.

The post holders will have a relevant postgraduate degree, relevant teaching experience at FE or HE level, and must be able to teach Finance and Economics across different pathway programmes. Preferably, the post holders will have a teaching qualification (e.g. PGCE) and experience of teaching international students.

The role will include teaching through lectures, seminars, tutorials, designing and preparing module content and assessment, along with providing academic support for international students. The role will require the flexibility to deliver both face to face and online.

As an exceptional teacher, you will be able to demonstrate high standards of delivery in a consistent manner, be committed to improving achievement across all areas of your subject, and have an understanding of the strategies required to accomplish this. Strong planning and organisational skills are also required.

This position represents an exceptional opportunity to make a difference to the education of talented international students preparing to enter higher education at Queen's University Belfast. If you have a strong desire to work within an ethos of creative collaboration and partnership, and want to have a positive impact on young people, then we would be delighted to hear from you.
